St Mary's Parish Echuca

Focus on the Gospel

It's a familiar story that we hear every year at this time. On the evening of the first Easter, the fearful disciples were gathered in a room with all the doors locked, and suddenly Jesus stood among them. He said, "I'm back — and boy, did they pick the wrong man to crucify this time!

Now I'll show them what happens when you mess with the Son of God.

No, wait. That's not it. How did that go? Oh, yes. Jesus said, "A fine bunch of disciples you guys are! Ran out on me at the first sign of trouble. I'm through with all of you."

No, that's not it either. Actually, as we all know, what Jesus said was "Peace be with you."

But those first two responses might not surprise you if you were hearing the story for the first time. They're kind of what we'd expect.

But Jesus never really did the expected thing. He challenges our way of life and interferes with our plans, projects and goals. Because he questions our beliefs and our ideas about what's important, we get rid of him or at least keep him at a safe distance like the disciples who ran away or denied him.

We devote our time and energy to the things we depend on and put our trust in to give meaning to our lives - wealth, power, social status, health, fitness, knowledge — any of these and more, things that are all good in themselves, but not if they are what we need to live our lives, what we put our faith in.

After his resurrection Jesus didn't appear to his disciples with a superhero "I'm back!" speech or a putdown of those who had abandoned him.

Instead it was with a message of peace and forgiveness. He had been crucified because he didn't behave and speak as people wanted him to, and when he rose from the dead, he didn't speak as people might have feared he would.

His cross and resurrection mean his triumphing over of our sinfulness and the possibility of genuine faith for us.

His life, death and resurrection mean our reconciliation with God.

Pope Francis Speaks

"I prefer a Church which is bruised, hurting and dirty because it has been out on the streets, rather than a Church which is unhealthy from being confined and from clinging to its own security. EG 49 "What the Church needs most today is the ability to heal wounds and to warm the hearts of the faithful; it needs nearness, proximity. I see the Church as a field hospital after a battle"

American Press, 30 Sept 2013

NEXT WEEK - Come & See Mass will be held at 5pm on Sunday 19 April, St Mary's School.

Readings

Acts 4:32-35

The whole group of believers was united, heart and soul; no one claimed for his own use anything that he had, as everything they owned was held in common.

The apostles continued to testify to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus with great power, and they were all given great respect.

None of their members was ever in want, as all those who owned land or houses would sell them, and bring the money from them, to present it to the apostles; it was then distributed to any members who might be in need.

Responsorial Psalm: Ps 117:2-4, 15-18, 22-24

R. Give thanks to the Lord for he is good, his love is everlasting.

or

R. Alleluia.

Let the sons of Israel say:

'His love has no end.'

Let the sons of Aaron say:

'His love has no end.'

Let those who fear the Lord say:

'His love has no end.' R.

The Lord's right hand has triumphed; his right hand raised me up.

I shall not die, I shall live and recount his deeds.

I was punished, I was punished by the Lord, but not doomed to die. R.

The stone which the builders rejected has become the corner stone, This is the work of the Lord, a marvel in our eyes.

This day was made by the Lord; we rejoice and are glad. R.

1 John 5:1-6

Whoever believes that Jesus is the Christ has been begotten by God; and whoever loves the Father that begot him loves the child whom he begets. We can be sure that we love God's children if we love God himself and do what he has commanded us; this is what loving God is - keeping his commandments; and his commandments are not difficult, because anyone who has been begotten by God has already overcome the world; this is the victory over the world - our faith.

Who can overcome the world?

Only the man who believes that Jesus is the Son of God;

Jesus Christ who came by water and blood, not with water only, but with water and blood; with the Spirit as another witness - since the Spirit is the truth.

Gospel Acclamation:

Alleluia, alleluia!

You believe in me, Thomas, because you have seen me; happy are those who have not seen me, but still believe!

Alleluia!
